

The Lima Times-Democrat

THE LIMA TIMES-DEMOCRAT PUBLISHED BY THE LIMA TIMES-DEMOCRAT PUBLISHING CO.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

The Lima Times-Democrat is published every Monday except on legal holidays. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

One of the best features of the paper is its editorial and news columns. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Subscription prices: One year, $1.00; Six months, $0.60; Three months, $0.35. Single copies, 10 cents.

Office: 201 North Main Street, Lima, O.

Telephone: C.A. 104.

Largest Circulation in Lima.

Postage Prepaid Anywhere in United States.

Subscription notices must be sent to the publisher. All notices must be paid in advance.

The Lima Times-Democrat has the largest circulation of any daily newspaper in North America. It is published at 10 cents per copy in advance and 15 cents per copy on delivery.

Cotton Ties Under the New Tariff

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

The new tariff law placed cotton ties upon the free list. Under the McKinley act cotton ties were dutiable at 1 cent per pound, with an additional charge of two-tenths of a cent per pound when cut to lengths and provided with buckles or fastenings.

Such duties were prohibitory, and practically shut out all foreign ties, with the exception of a small quantity of hoop and band iron.

With the market completely in their control, however, the few American manufacturers who make all the cotton ties consumed in this country protested emphatically against the placing of this tariff on the free list of the present tariff law.

They declared that it would be impossible for the unprotected industry to exist in the face of the competition which would surely come from abroad.

Cotton ties have been free of duty for just a year, and the proposed rule competition has not yet materialized.

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, the imports of free cotton ties amounted to five million, valued at $124,000. Even the high No.

A Holiday Tragedy

All my life I have been well, not exactly a woman later, but a firm believer in the idea that man is the lord of creation, and that woman is not an absolute necessity. For many years I have been a bachelor, and I have been able to dispose with feminine aid and yet live a very enjoyable life, as, with clockwork regularity, I went from my bachelor lodgings to business each morning, returning in the afternoon and spending the evening at the club or some place of amusement. The idea of having a companion in my rambles never entered my head.

True, my landlady—good old soul—prepared my meals and cleaned my rooms, but that was because I had not time to do it myself, and a man servant was beyond my means. But in all else I disposed with woman's aid. Besides cleaning, sewing buttons on, lighting the fire, etc., were all done with my own hands, and at a pinch I have even washed a pocket handkerchief.

I desired to stand forth as a living example of the original Adam and a proof of the superiority of the modern Eve. But my misguided companions refused to profit by my teachings or to follow my example. One by one they fell under female influence, one by one they married, and then—I cut them dead. Ah, me, those few bohemian days were happy ones, as year after year I pursued my adopted course in spite of the continuing loss of my companions. It came a time when my circle of acquaintances had decreased so considerably that I began to feel lonely. Bachelor chums were more difficult to find than ever. To loneliness succeeded melancholy, and I grew miserable and pessimistic.

One friend, to whom I laid bare my woes, said:

"You keep to yourself too much. What you ought to do is to lodge with some family where there are two or three grown up daughters. They would take you up a bit."

This, to me, the hitherto ideal advocate of the advice, Elenor, and I, after the advice had been tendered several times, I began to think that such a change might be beneficial. Such a course need not involve the rendering of any tenets; but, as woman still formed a part of the world, she might at least contribute to my amusement.

So, after very serious consideration, I decided to leave my bachelor apartments, with light society thrown in.

Now my troubles commenced. I could not make the direct inquiry, "Have you any grown up daughters?" I generally viewed the rooms, listening to the landlady's verbiage, asking, "Have you any children?" and the reply would be: "Yes, four, 'five, or 'six" (as the case might be); "the eldest is 10 years old and the youngest two months. But they are as good as gold and never make a bit of noise."

The memberless journey I made and the many tedious conversations I listened to were all to no purpose. No one appeared to possess grown up daughters—the eldest was always 10. Just when I was about to abandon my search, fortune—or was it fate?—led me to Myrtle Delwich, Paradise gardens, Upper Delwich. The door was opened by a staid, elderly, fatigued, dressed, and with bright blue eyes and golden hair.

"Newly married, thought I. 'Well, here at least the eldest won't be ten' I invited me in, and then disappeared, a middle aged lady entering directly after. We proceeded to discuss terms. Then came the inevitable inquiry as to children.

"I have two grown up daughters, the younger of whom opened the door to you."

At last! Need I say that, within a week, I was installed in Myrtle Villa? The landlady, a widow, was a genial, homely woman, and the youngest daughter, Annie, aged 35, I have already described, but the other daughter, Julia, did not impress me favorably. She was neither good looking nor pleasing, and, without being exactly bad tempered, always insisted upon having her own way.

I now seemed to be in a new world. Mrs. Delwich was a brilliant hostess. Each morning without my aid, and my slippers were laid ready for me in the evening, and as for lending me a needle and cotton—the idea!—I would only leave them outside, they would only be too happy.

I no longer needed to seek relaxation at the club after the labors of the day. Julia played the piano well, her only accomplishment, while Annie sang divinely, and thus the evenings passed all too quickly. Male acquaintances they did not seem to possess. Yet, stay, there was one—Mr. Malcolm, whose name I frequently heard mentioned, but as his calls were always made in the daytime I never saw him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

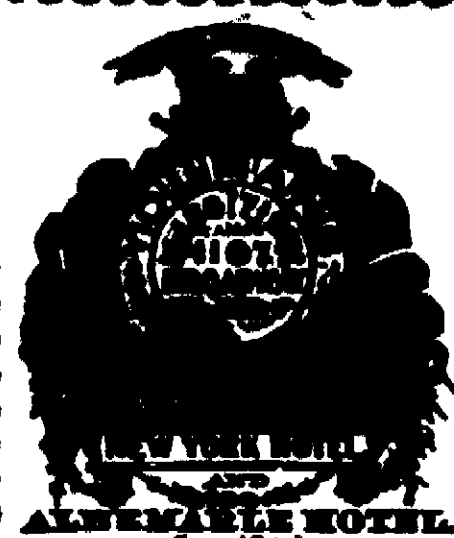

"Oh, he's a very old friend of ours. Once we thought he would have proposed to Julia, but nothing came of it."

So I thought went pleasantly on, and then—how can I confuse it?—my lifelong friend was thrown to the winds, my proud ambition humbled in the dust, and I became a willing slave to the sex I had so long despised and ignored. My only thought now was how and in what way I should become my darling Julia's lover. Time after time I would see him. He had rapidly passed into that condition of mind which raised a feeling of jealousy on his account, so one day I questioned my landlady on the subject.

THE MAMMOTH HAT.

Superior in quality and style to any other Agency Hat. FALL STYLES now on sale.

THE MAMMOTH

SOLE AGENTS.

Noah's Ark,

The animals are on cardboard—two and three inches high, naturally colored, and will stand alone. They can be arranged in line or groups, making an interesting object lesson in natural history. This offer is made solely for the purpose of acquainting mothers with the merits of

Willimantic Star Thread

Send for a set for each of the children. Address: WILLIMANTIC THREAD CO., Willimantic, Conn.

LADIES' LOW SHOES, At Prices Never Heard of.

All because we have got too many shoes.

All $1.75, $2.00 and $2.50 Prince Albert Oxfords and Southern Ties at $1.50.

All $1.25, $1.40 and $1.50 walking Shoes at $1.00. These are bargains never made by any Store in Lima. Come early and secure your pick of elegant Shoes at prices never equaled.

J. M. WAUGH.

NEW AERIAL CABLE

To London.
Come out and see it at

JOHNSON'S SWIM.

The Lima Times-Democrat.

Published by J. M. Waugh, Proprietor.

Subscription price, $5.00 per annum in advance.

Telephone call, No. 84.

TALES OF THE TOWN.

The K. A. E. O. will meet Wednesday evening.

Born—to George Goss, of 659 North West street—a son.

The Crowsley family held a family reunion at Hove's lake today.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Newton Miller of North Pine st., a daughter.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reboliof, of West Haller street—a son.

Worner & Dietrich have opened a tailoring establishment in the Grail block.

The seven-month-old daughter of George W. Robinson, of the E. E. A. B., died at his residence on the south side yesterday. The funeral services were held this afternoon.

Mrs. J. B. Haggard, pastor of Missionary Church of Christ, at St. Anne's hall, has asked for letter of recommendation from that body. She still expects to preach the gospel in new fields of labor.

The marriage of Mr. Albert Kiser and Miss Lois Morris, two well known youth couple, was celebrated at St. Rose church this morning. Rev.

BLUE COATS.

Assigned To Their Seats for the September Month.

Chief Haller assigned the city patrolmen to their beats for the month of September as follows:

Day force—Tinkham, north of Wayne st.; Blair, Wayne to river; Gray, south side.

Night force—Watts & Baker, north of Wayne st.; Roney, Wayne to High, east of Main; Vena, High to river, east of Main; Furry, Wayne to river, west of Main; Lehman and Ulrich, south side.

BADLY BEATEN.

Lima Won Yesterday's Game from a Cincinnati Team.

The game of ball between an aggregation of Cincinnati boys resulted in a big victory for the home club. The Lima club defeated the visitors, and the game, while very much one-sided, was somewhat interesting.

Following is the score:

Lima Professionals.....10-0 Cincinnati Professionals.....0-0

Base hits—Lima 10, Professionals 7.

Two-base hits—McGinnis, Hickox, Biederman, Connelly. Three-base hits—Robinson, Miller, J. Todd.

Batteries—Miller and Hickman; Biederman and Nye—Umpire: Fred Hoffman.

The Best Claret Wine

For Table use one dollar per gallon at 408 F. Main St.

Wilson Bros.

The Best

California Port Wine one dollar per gallon at 408 North Main St.

Wilson Bros.

California Port Wine

Enriches the blood. Sold for one dollar per gallon by

WILSON BROS., 204 N. Main St.

The Best

California Port Wine one dollar per gallon at 408 North Main St.

Wilson Bros.

RELEASED FROM JAIL

Through the Efforts of Supreme Chancellor Richke.

Two American Members of the Knights of Pythias Arrested and Jailed in Guatemala Without Any Evidence Against Them.

Supreme Chancellor of the World Knights of Pythias Walter B. Richke, of this city, has been instrumental in securing the release from prison of two Americans, members of the order, who were arrested in Livingston, Guatemala, pending the investigation of a murder.

Robert J. Breckinridge, Jr., a nephew of W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, and C. C. Goff, of Louisiana, are the Americans who were arrested and the circumstances are particularly interesting.

The murdered man was cashier Brooks of the "Cia do Agencias y Transportes del Norte," the main office of which is at Livingston. The company is the most important concern in Central America, controlling several lines of freight vessels, and transporting about all of the coffee, fruit, &c., exported from that country. Brooks was the custodian of many thousands of dollars, trusted by the company, and stood high in all circles.

Goff, Breckinridge and an assistant bookkeeper named Hughes slept in rooms in the main building, and the building was patrolled at night by a negro watchman. On the night of July 16, Breckinridge, as he went to his room, passed by the main office room and saw Brooks at work. He talked with Brooks a short time and asked him to spend the night with him. Brooks told him he would do so, and would go up to his room after he quit work. Breckinridge went on upstairs and waited for Brooks to come and join them. He had not come at a late hour, and they and went to sleep, a storm raging and beating upon the metal roof overhead. Breckinridge, however, was not sleeping, and was talking to himself. The following morning, Hughes rushed into the room and told them that Brooks had been murdered.

BOTH WENT TO BED

The three hastened down and found the cashier lying on his face, his body was in the vault, which was open. Brooks had been shot in the back. Near his body was a revolver stolen from Breckinridge's room twelve days before.

The first thought was that Brooks had been killed in order that the safe might be robbed, but there were important reasons for believing otherwise. One was that while the murderer, as it was afterward ascertained, had taken $10,000 in bills from one of the drawers in the vault, he had left more than three times that sum in the same drawer which he could have stolen just as easily as he took the smaller sum.

One singular feature of the case, however, was the fact that the safe was open at all. The most rigid rule of the establishment was that the big vault should be closed and locked every afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the presence of every man in the building, and that no one from the highest to the lowest, should open it until the next morning, when it was unlocked in the presence of all. This deepened the mystery all the more.

When the news of the affair reached the officers, Breckinridge, Goff, Hughes and the negro night watchman were

ALL PLACED UNDER ARREST.

The most rigid investigation was begun, without result. A mob took the negro watchman from jail, believing that he was either guilty of the murder or implicated in it, and strung him up by the neck three times in the effort to get him to divulge, but he told nothing upon which the officers could base a theory.

Goff, who is a member of a K. P. lodge in Louisiana, communicated the particulars of their incarceration to his lodge, which in turn notified Supreme Chancellor Richke, as the head of the organization, which numbers half a million men. His attention was called to the matter on the 8th of last month and Mr. Richke communicated with the State department and laid the case before the department. Two days later he received word that the attention of the minister at Guatemala had been called to the matter and last evening Mr. Richke received word that the men had been released on bail.

This is another evidence of the benefits to be derived from membership with a secret organization for had it not been for the interest taken by the Knights of Pythias and Supreme Chancellor Richke, it is not probable that they would have gained their liberty.

Breckinridge and Brooks were warm friends. Brooks had given Breckinridge another pistol after he had lost the one with which Brooks was killed.

STREET TALK.

The marriage of Dr. Chase and Miss Stella Parmenter will occur on Wednesday, September 18th.

More strange and funny things occur at the general delivery window of a postoffice than almost anywhere else. Saturday a colored man wall up in years ambled up to the window and said: "Please sah, is thar any letters for Andrew Johnson or George Washington."

The marriage of Mr. Chas. S. Dimond, and Miss Mary F. Kemper, both well known young people of this city, was announced at St. Rose church yesterday, to occur the 15th of this month.

Saturday the Western Union messenger boys gave the Lima Cycling Club a beautiful silver plated vase, which they donated as a prize to the last man in the two-mile race this afternoon.

A Lima gentleman who was in Springfield Saturday says it is reported that Bert Stephens, formerly of this city, who has been employed at a total eclipse of the moon will take place tomorrow night. At 10 o'clock p. m. the northeast edge of the moon will come in contact with the earth's shadow, at 11 it will be completely immersed, and at 1 a. m. it will begin to emerge, and at 2 a. m. it will be entirely clear of the shadow. The eclipse can be observed better with the naked eye than in any other way.

Messrs. Ed Speece, Ralph and Harry Durnbaugh Chas. Bressler, D. D. Morris, W. J. Ritchie and Dr. Irwin are home from a two weeks outing at Douglas Lake, Mich. They visited Mackinac Island, Petoskey and other summer resorts and had an elegant time.

In the Ohio Southern superintendent's office at Springfield, was soon to be promoted to the office of assistant superintendent and that Carl Gohr, another office employee, would be promoted to master of transportation. It is understood at this end of the line that Ed Hiner, who has represented the company as agent here since its completion to Lima, will occupy a comfortable seat in either the passenger or freight department.

Dr. Joseph Huntley, a recent addition to the medical fraternity of this city, has gone to Chicago to take a two months polyclinic course.

Prof. Miller accompanied by his family, arrived here from Hamilton this morning and will board until about the first of October, when they will occupy Mr. S. S. Wheeler's residence on West North street, as the latter's handsome newhome at North and Washington streets will be completed about that time.

County surveyor elect G. W. Taylor was sworn in today.

LABOR DAY

Fittingly Celebrated by the Lima Cycling Club.

Labor Day was celebrated by races given by the Lima Cycling Club. The parade moved shortly after 10 o'clock and was headed by the Lima City Band. The Ladies' Club followed the band and was well represented presenting a better appearance than the gentlemen riders. The Ladies' Club was followed by the Lima Cycling Club while the ungarlanded wheelmen brought up the rear.

The riders of decorated wheels dismounted in front of the Burnett house, where the judges made the awards. Guy Volk won the first prize, a gold watch donated by W. E. Rudy. The riders of the wheel trimmen to represent the "Mayflower" won the second prize; Wm. Koch, decorated with flowers, third; Master George Parmenter won the fourth prize and Miss Nellie McComb, fifth.

There will be an illuminated bicycle street parade at 8 o'clock this evening.

Notice.

The North and South Side W. C. T. U. will give an "Old Folks Concert" on the evening of Sept. 4th, in Spring St. Lutheran Church. 4:30

BEAUTIFUL WOODLAWN

Received the Remains of Miss Nettie Vanatta To-day.

The funeral services of Miss Nettie Vanatta, an account of whose sad death by drowning in Wawasee Lake near Syracuse, Ind., appeared in the Times-Democrat Saturday, were held from the Disciple church on Wayne st., at 10 o'clock this morning.

The remains were sent from Syracuse over the H. & O. Saturday, together with those of Bert Sargeant, the Lima young man, who was drowned with Miss Vanatta. The two caskets were brought as far as Deshler, where Miss Vanatta's remains, accompanied by a number of her relatives from Garrett and Milford, Ind., were transferred to the C. H. & D. and arrived here at 5:30 o'clock. They were taken at once to the home of the deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Vanatta, at Harrison avenue and Elm streets, where they were viewed yesterday by many of the young lady's friends.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. De Miller from the Disciple church. They were very touching and largely attended. The floral tributes were very beautiful. After the services at the church were concluded the long line of carriages followed the funeral car to Woodlawn cemetery where the remains were laid to their final resting place.

FOR GRAND LARCENY.

Newt. Wise Wanted at Montpelier, Ind.—Arrested Here Last Night.

Newt. Wise, a well-known young man belonging in this city, was arrested last night by Lieut. Wingate and patrolman Boney.

On May 11th Chief Haller received a card from Henry Sleppey, chief of police at Montpelier, Ind., giving the description of a two-year-old horse and phaeton which had been stolen from that city.

The card also stated that the thief had stolen $50 before taking the horse and buggy, and that the man wanted for the theft had "N. W." tattooed on one of his arms and went by the name of Newt. Wise.

A month or six weeks ago, Detective Geo. Reck, of the C. H. & D., arrested Wise at Bowling Green and had him locked up there, but the Montpelier authorities failed to get out their requisition papers soon enough and the prisoner was released upon a writ of habeas corpus.

He made good his escape and was lost track of until he arrived here a day or two ago and was captured at the home of a relative on Elm street last night.

Chief Haller notified the Montpelier authorities by telegraph.

Israel's Greatest Leader.

Rev. H. C. Jameson, of Findlay, Ohio, will give his popular lecture, "Israel's Greatest Leader," in Grace M. E. church, Tuesday evening, Sept. 3rd. Admission—adults, 25c; children, 15c. Rev. Jameson is a man of extraordinary ability and an excellent speaker. Let all the people turn out and hear him on the above date.

GOODING'S School Shoes.

Don't Lose the Opportunity
ARE

Solid, Strong and Neat.

We have paid special attention to School Shoes this season, and have an assortment better than ever seen in the city. We were fortunate enough to buy before the advance in price, and consequently are able to sell them to you at twenty-five per cent. less than you will have to pay elsewhere. Examine the bargains in Ladies' Shoes found this week at

GOODING'S,

230 North Main Street.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to neighbors and friends for their kind assistance during the sickness and after the death of our baby.

MR. AND MRS. T. F. SEWARD.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. N. F. Faze and family desire through these columns to return thanks to the friend for the beautiful floral tributes at the funeral of their little daughter.

TO THE LABORING MEN:

We extend hearty greeting and best wishes; may your cause be as successful as it is a just one. We wish to announce that our stock for fall and winter of 1895 is now ready for your inspection and approval. You will find every department brimming over with new and fresh goods, manufactured principally for our shelves. The entire country is our market; we select only the best. It is useless to dwell on the price, for it is safe to say that the majority of you will testify to

THE PRESS.

The greatness, glory and prosperity of the republic springs principally from free and honest labor.

There is dignity in toil—in toil of the hand as well as toil of the head—in toil to provide for the bodily wants of an individual life, as well as in toil to promote some enterprise of world wide fame; all labor that tends to supply man's wants, to increase man's happiness; in a word, all labor that is honest is honorable too.

OUR PRICES BEING THE LOWEST.

As it is, we are grateful to the last degree to the many who will to-day lay down their work and celebrate the day, for their generous patronage, and subscribe ourselves, Clothingly yours,

THE PUBLIC BENEFACITOR:

Clothing, Haberdashery and Hatters for the Masses.

THE Mammoth,

STORE CLOSED TO-DAY NOON.

LABOR DAY.

STORE CLOSED TO-DAY NOON.

LABOR DAY.

To-day Being Labor Day, Our store closed at noon, giving our clerks the benefit of participating with their co-laborers.

STORE CLOSED TO-DAY NOON.

LABOR DAY.

IMPORTANT

Decision Rendered Concerning Valuable Real Estate in Chicago.

THE AMEER'S SON

And the English Nephew Can Tote Him No More

But the Parisians Will Let Him Into the Seductive Their City.

Two O. T. Men Battle their Way with Axes and Pitchforks: Coal Field Discovered at Ohio.

(Special by Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1.

Acting Secretary of State rendered an important decision which will interest some of the land about the mouth of the river. A question was raised the ownership of certain immensely valuable acreage north and south of the United States or to the Illinois, or to the men occupy ground. The secretary says government does not own it and could not give a title to that it may belong to the Illinois.

"SYNDICATE" WILSON

Closes His Meeting at Gallop Successful Effort—A N. Find.

GALLIPOLIS, O., Sept. 1.

Wilson today closed 1 of meetings on the fair ground this place. It is the last of a series of meetings conducted here the summer, in which 2,000 have been converted. Wilson to be a reformed drunkard.

The town is considerably up over the cropping out of a vein of coal in the creek at owned by T. W. Wood. will be worked immediately large amount of local coal been interested in the business.

JUDGE FLEUDY DE

One of Arizona's Pioneer's Big Majority.

Prescott, Arizona, Sept. 1.

Henry Fleudy, one of the most eminent men in the territory, this city last night at the eighty years. He was the first set of territorial officers and came here from New York in 1863. He was time, secretary of the territory its acting governor for a period.

ANOTHER BUBBLE B

The Evans Vista State Bank Its Doors.

STORM LAKE, Ia., Sept. 1.

greatest excitement ever at this place now prevails overing of the Buena Vista State Bank. The streets are crowded with people principally of people had money in the bank. Their friends, form groups, people around the street threaten violence against have misappropriated funds to them.

NO MONEY

To be Paid Until the solvent the Injunct

LIBERTY, Mo., Sept. 1.

Insurance companies have phoned on the Graham's going into court and asking temporary writ to prevent diture of any money re his premiums until a full the case has been had in d banks, probate judge and were the persons whom the ing order will affect. The persons against whom the companies asked the injunct

SHAZADHA GO

And London's Four Hum Fumigate

LONDON, Sept. 1.

Shazadha Khan, the son of the Afghanistan, who has been detained by the British royal past month, has departed where the Four Hundred pecked to endure the visit inflicted on the English taking was attended by coronation.

BAPTIST MINIS

West Minn. Baptists Investigated

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.

Baptist Ministers Union is considerable agitation about the China, in which were massed and their houses and the destroyed. They to-day memorial to Secretary for the appointment of a to investigate the case up to the limit